Considering the weakened condition of the team, the local baseball nine played a creditable game at the Polo Grounds pesterday afternoon. It was the final game of the present series between the New-York and Pittsburg the present series between the New-York and Pittsburg nines, and the Pittsburg men won their second game by mimely babling and the unfortunate fielding efforts of Crane in right field. The errors broke Crane's heart and he retired in the seventh inning in favor of Fields.

The piayers were thankful to the dark clouds which obscured the sun's rays and made life on the green diamond field a positive pleasure. Ruste pitched fairly, except in the opening inning, when three of the six hits were made. The local players made half again as many were made. The local players made half again as many hits as their rivais, but the drives were not so conveniently placed. The all-around work of B'erbauer, Shugart, Fuller and Gore was superb.

Fuller and Gore was superb.

While their comrades were on the field the hospital patients of the local club were up at the little clubhouse in centre Seld, undergoing treatment for brufsed and swollen joints. Manager Powers was determined to get Ewing, Tiernan and Boyle back on the team as quickly as possible. He sent for William Nowman, a professional trainer, yesterday, and told him to go to work on those trouble one joints. Newman was the trainer of Martin, who was the first blevels tournament at the new Madison.

trouble one joints. Newman was the trainer of Martin, who won the first bleycle tournament at the new Madison Square Garden, with a leg the size of a burrel.

Ewing's ankie was as big as a boxing glove when Newman went to work. Newman uses a gas stove, etcam, a peculiar liniment, and the massage treatment. Ewing's ankie was reduced to its normal dimensions after one hours. ankle was reduced to its normal dimensions. The trainer then took Tiernan in hand, and the troublesome ligaments back of the knee were greatly benefited. Doyle was also treated. The players look upon Newman and his methods with wonder, and say that his success in treating twisted alsed muscles is wonderful.

The home players went first to the bat, and opened the me with one run. Gore led off with a two-ba-e hit to ght field, and scored on an error by Farrell. In the last half of the inning the visiting team went them one better, and took the lead. After two men were out, Shugart made a hit, and scored an instant later on Beckley's lively threeharger to right field. Beckley scored on a hit by Smith.

The local players thei the score in the third inning.

Murphy and Crane struck out, but Gore was more patient and was sent to first on called balls. He went to third on a hit by Fuller, and scored on a hit by Richardson. Fuller was caught of third, or more runs might have re-

WORK OF THE ARMORY BOARD.

President Barker, of the Tax Department, and Com set-to yesterday over an appropriation of about $7,500 for fitting up the temporary quarters of the 71st Regiment in the rink at One-hundred and seventh-st. and Lexington ave.. Colonel F. V. Greene, the new commanding officer of the regiment, wanted a new rifle range and other improvements, as though, Mr. Barker put it, "the 71st were going to stay in the rink forever and a day." Mr. Barker urged that such an appropriation would be a waste of public money and quoted from the Consolidation act to prove that the board was without authority in the matter. He thought that Colonel Greene should present his request to the Board of Estimate. Mr. Gilroy took Issue with Mr. Barker and a long discussion resulted. The board finally adopted Mr. Barker's views.

Assemblyman Walker asked that the boys of St.

Francis Xavier College might be allowed to practice their military drill in a city armory. Grant's suggestion Mr. Walker will make his applica-tion to Colonel Dowd of the 12th Regiment, who may grant the boys permission to drill in his armory. Commissioner Gilroy reported that the 22d Regiment Armory was completed, and the Controller was re-quested to pay Architect Leo the balance due him.

A TALK WITH J. PIERPONT MORGAN

J. Fierpont Morgan was at his office yesterday for the first time since his return from Europe on Wednesday. He received many congratulatory calls. Talking on the financial outlook, Mr. Morgan said that so far as he could see there was no disposition now to sell American securities. Those which the foreign holders have been compelled to sell are already parted with. The selling now reported as coming from London might be set down as due to orders originating on this side of the Atlantic. Mr. Morgan thought that if there was more reciprocity shown here when London began to buy, the buying abroad would continue. As it has been of late, whenever London bought some one here began to sell and foreign operators would not come freely into the market until the situation in this respect changed.

Mr. Morgan added: "The financial situation abroad is serene enough and is steadily growing stronger. Argentine securities are recovering and this is helping foreign finances. The silver quostion I do not think is as disturbing a factor abroad as some persons

EVAN THOMAS NOMINATED AGAIN.

A good deal of politics was played yesterday at the icus of the members of the Produce Exchange to annual election on Monday. The politics were played in the interest of Evan Thomas, the president of the Exchange, who is a third term candidate, and Alexander Munn, who wanted to be re-elected a trustee of the gratuity fund. There was much opposition to Mr. Thomas on account of his desire for a third term, and because he is a Hill delegate to the Chicago Convention. It is probable that he would not have had any chance for a renomination had it not been for the speculators in membership dekets. All wanted Mr Munn re-elected trustee of the gratuity fund. Mr Thomas's supporters united with the ticket speculators, and a combination was thus formed which

The cancus was held at 2 o'clock vesterday after noon. J. H. Herriek was the classes, apparent that Marshal was the secretary. It was apparent that Marshai was the secretary. It was apparent that everything had been cut and dried, and the nominations were rushed through with great alacrity. The same combination nominated Affred Rove for vice-president, taking the place held by Thomas P. White, who, according to custom, should have been nominated for president. The leaders of the opposition declare that they will run an independent tichet and try to defeat Mr. Thomas in that way.

A RICH MAN ANGRY AT BEING HANDCUFFED.

Solomon Jacobs and his wife were exceedingly indignant in the General Secsions Building yesterday when Deputy-Sheriff Whalen put a handcuif on him Incobs tried to get free, and his wife said: "It's shame that a man who is worth $200,000 should have handcuffs on him." The prisoner finally quieted down. He was arrested near his house, No. 1,673 Madison-ave., by Detectives Von Gerichten and Me Naught, buying been indicted on the charge of letting Recently Mrs. Amelia Weinberg was sentenced to the penitentiary for six months for keeping a disorderly house there. A NEW CONSUL-GENERAL ARRIVES HERE AND BAYS THAT THE REVOLUTION IS PRACTICALLY ENDED.

Manuel Pimental Coronel, Consul-General of Veneznels. as New-York, arrived early yesterday morning on the steamer Venezuela. He came to succeed Jose Alfonso Ortego, who has been transferred to the censulship at London, England. It was said that Senor Alfonso Ortego was removed from the consular ser-vice in New York on account of his alleged sympathy with Crespo, the leader of the revolutionary party in Venezuela. The story was dealed yesterday and the appointment of Senor Alfonso Orlego to the London sulate was spoken of as a promotion. While the was hinted ye-terday that it might be a shrewd move to get him away from New-York. If Senor Alfonso Ortego has any sympathy with Crespo, he could do Palacio more harm in New-York than any one else.

The new consul, Senor Coronel, is a young man about twenty four years old. He was born in Valencia in the maritime state of Carabobo. He took a course in law and then became a newspaper man. He was a representative in the last Congress of Venezuela and has taken an active interest in politics. He is a warm supporter of Palacio and of the Government. He will go to Washington to present his credentials and wift begin his duties in a few days. He was seen yesterday by a Tribune reporter at his apartments in the Hotel America.
"When I left Venezuela." he said, "everything looked toward the specity restoration of peace. In the States of Los Andes and Zamora the revolution has been completely everthrown. There is no longer any need of military law and the Government has sen civil commissioners to superintend the affairs of the various States. In the State of Carabobo the rebel troops are poorly emipped. They have nothing to fight with but macheties, knives and clubs. They are practically without weapons. The Government has nebody to fight but a small faction, and the stories of the battles told in the New-York papers are greatly exaggerated. They were sent out by the revolutionists and have little foundation in fact. O the day that a terrible defeat of the Government town and heard nothing of it. I was near the scene of the alleged lattle pencefully eating a sandwich. The Government has 24,000 men under arms, and that time when peace will be restored is at hand. Then the prisoners at Carneas will be released and a general amnesty proclaimed. The legislative body will be convened and the election of a President will take place. As long as his successor is not elected, Palacio is the legal President. The commerce of Venezuela has not been seriously impaired. The Bank of Venez neln is in splendld condition and it is backed by all the leading merchants of the State. The last steamer from New-York, the Carneas, brought $149,000 in besides a cargo of breadstuffs and manufactured The people of a State which is engaged in a bitter war do not buy jewelry."

Some of the other passengers on the Venezuela, who did not sympathize with the Government, told a different story. Dr. Felippe Valencia y Castillo said that the revolutionary party would soon triumph. "A that the revolutionary party would soon triumph. "A feattle was fought at Tariba about May 20," he said, "in which the Government forces were routed. Cipitane Castre, the Government general land 1,300 men and General Morales, the revolutionary leader, had 2,000 men. In an ensagement between the same forces two days later the revolutionary forces were unfeated. The forces of the revolutionary party in Los Andes are stronger than ever. The Government forces were defeated on May 19, and General Crespo is now gathering troops around Colabozo."

TROUBLES OF BUSINESS MEN.

A MANUFACTURER OF COTTON GOODS FAILS-A STOCK BROKER'S UNPAID GROCERY BILLS.

Leopold Waitzfelder, manufacturer of cotton goods New-York and Philadelphia, has failed. He has office and salesroom at North-st. and West Broadway, this city, and is the proprietor of the Arkwright Mills at Manayunk, Philadelphia. The announ of the failure caused some surprise in the trade, as it was generally supposed that he was doing a small but safe business. Judgments have been entered against him in Philadelphia in favor of Lena Waitzfelder for $14,761 and in favor of Levi Waftzfelder for $1,182, both on notes for borrowed money. Mr. Waitzfelder was seen at his office in this city yesterday. He said that unprofitable business was the cause of the failure It cost too much to manufacture. The faffure had come so suddenly that he did not know exactly how b stood, but he thought that $50,000 would cover the general liabilities, a large part of which were for borrowed money. None of the banks would suffer, most of the creditors being in Philadelphia, few being

A BRIGHTER BUSINESS OUTLOOK. The business failures this week, as reported to R. G.

32 for Canada, a total of 207, compared with 198 a week ago and 224 for the corresponding week of 1851. A more encouraging aspect of business affairs is summarized in the weekly review as follows "The tone of commercial reports from various parts of the country indicates that business has to some extent improved. More favorable weather has helped both retail and wholesnle trade in many quarters, and West, while a little improvement in the price of cotton has operated as a stimulus to business at the outh. There has been no difficulty or disturbance in the money market, and the volume of currence electron has increased during the month of 1. Collections throughout the country are on the whole better than of late and fairly satisfactory, and ex-cepting the bursting of a speculative corner at Chicago there has been no especial excitement of any kind in

A QUEER WAY TO GET ROBBED. A dering robbery occurred shortly after noon Yesterday Erondway, near Park Place. The street was crowded with people at the time, but no one appears to have witnessed the robbers. The victim is Melville Wheeler, eighteen years old, an office boy, of No. 305 Henry-st. One of the alleged robbers, who is under arrest, says his name is James Coalton, nineteen years old, of No. 13 Eridge-st. Wheeler declares that he was walking along Broadway. when two men came up, one on each side, and linked arms with him. They held him and walked along with him as far as Murray-st. In the meantime Wheeler had been re-lieved of his watch and chain, valued at $14. As the mea-turned into Murray-st. Wheeler raised a cry for his watch and a large crowd collected. One of the men then made his escape. Wheeler kept his eyes on Coulton, and fol-lowed him to Church-st., demanding the return of his lowed him to Church-st., demanding the return of his watch. At this Coulton turned around and said, "What are you following me for?" At the same time he struck Wheeler in the face, knocking one of his teeth out. The young man still called for the return of his watch, and Coulton finally asked him to step into a liquor store, where

As was stated in Wednesday's Tribune, White won ofter fifty moves. The following diagram of the position shows that Elack was the weaker by a payin, must lose another, and had by far the worst of

AN ENGLISH CLERGYMAN'S HORRIBLE CRIME. London, June 3.-The Rev. Charles Douglas is under arrest charged with trying to wrong Florence Huntley, a thirteen-year-old girl. From the evidence given be-fore the police magistrate before whom Douglas was to-day at Paddington, it appears that the prisoner met the girl as she was returning to her home, and offered her a sum of money if she would accompany him to a certain place. The girl refused.

They were in a lonely spot and the fellow attacked the child, who, however, after a desperate struggle, managed to make her escape. A short time after-ward Douglus met the eight-year-old sister of Florence, who was walking along the road, and the miscreant attacked her also. The cries of the child attracted the attention of a man, who ran to see what the trouble was. He grasped Douglas, who made desperate resistance, fighting and bitting and in every way seeking to break away from his captor. It was had met his master. Then he adopted other tactics. grace that would come upon him if his offence should be made public, and offered his captor a large sum of money to allow him to escape. This was as fruit-less as his fighting, and his captor, keeping a firm hold of the brute's neck, marched the fellow along until he met a constable to whom he cave his prisoner in custody. The police magistrate remanded Douglas for trtal.

CLOSE OF THE MICARAGUA CANAL CONVENTION. St. Louis, June 3.-At this morning's session of the Nicaragua Canal Convention, the Committee on Permanent Organization made its report, naming George I. Converse, of Ohio, permanent president, with a vice-president from each State, and an executive committee. Mr. Converse, on assuming the gavel, made an appropriate speech, in which he adverted to the objects of the convention. The building of the canal he regarded as a commercial necessity, and declared that the Government should have control over so great a waterway. An invitation from the World's Fair authorities that the Nicaragua Canal be represented at the World's Fair Waterways Convention at Chicago, in 1803, was received and referred. The Committee on Resolutions then presented a report inducing the canal as feasible; recommending Government assistance, with protection secured to the Government's interests, recommending investments in the canal company's securities to the American people, and directing the appointment of two committees to visit the great National political conventions to secure their indorsement of the Government control of the canal. After an address by Rear-Admiral Ammen, the convention adjourned sine die.
